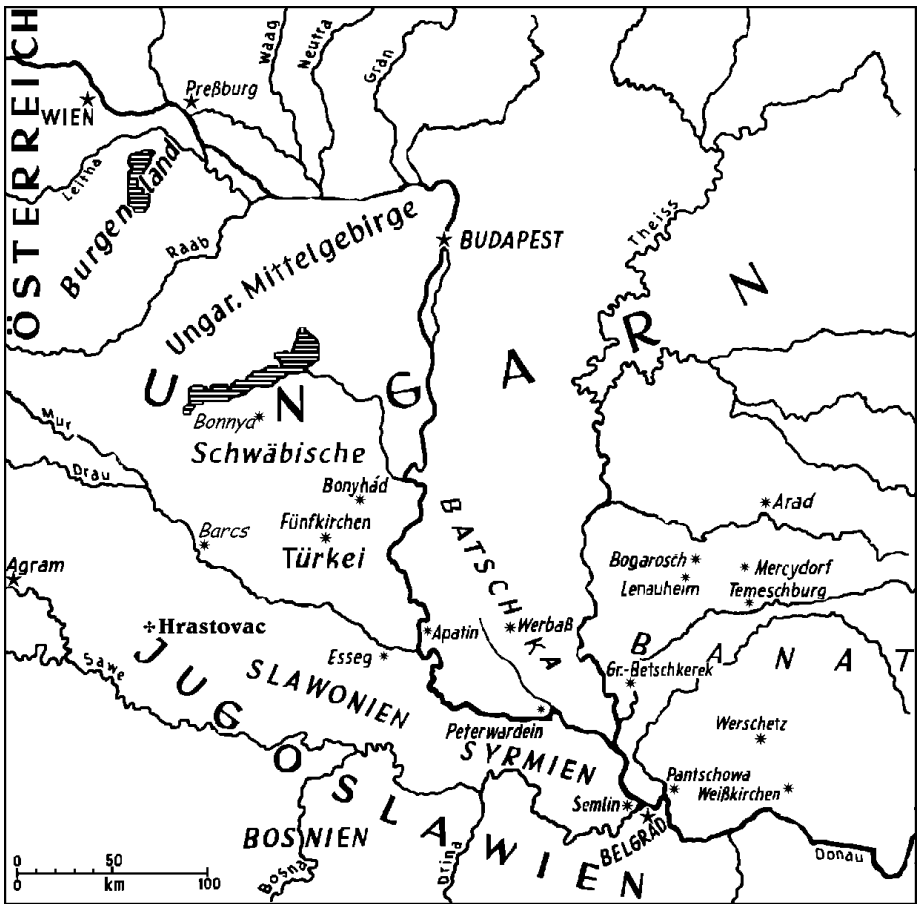
Historical Introduction

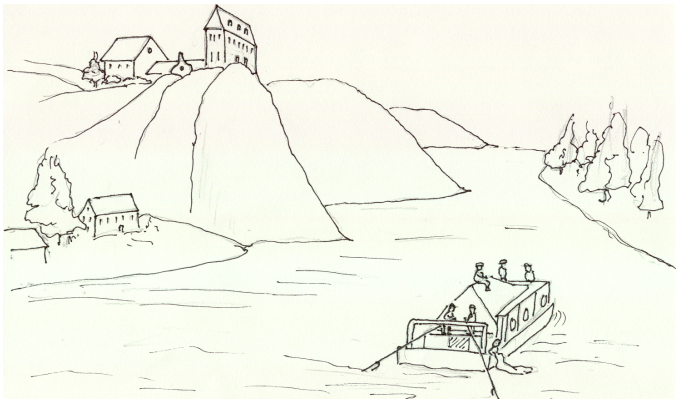
By Rosina T. Schmidt

On the fertile, marshy flood plains right between the great rivers of Drava in the north, and Sava in the south, stands today the village of Hrastovac. Only a few kilometers to the west flows the river Ilova towards Sava right on the earthquake fault line, which is the divider between the old Kingdom of Croatia to its west and the old Kingdom of Slavonia to its east. Even back in the Roman Times there were famous mineral bath towns erected along this fault line: Daruvar, Toplice, Krapinska, Lipik and others.

However, Hrastovac has much newer roots. When in 1865 the landowner in Daruvar, Baron Tikery needed some ready cash, he had the thousandyear old oak forest clear cut. The huge trees measured two to three meters in diameter were dragged by teams of oxen with great difficulties to the nearest train station in Sisak on the Sava. Thousands of acres around Daruvar and Pakrac lay now useless, so Baron Tikery decided to divide the land into village lots. The estate administrator Stein in Pakrac soon found purchasers, mainly from the sons and daughters of the ethnic German settlers in the Swabian Turkey, the Hungarian counties of Baranya, Somogy and Tolna.



Swabian Turkey is an unusual name, so far away from Swabia in south west of Germany as well from Turkey, the country in the Near East. It received its nickname in the early 1700's after the Turks' occupation of 140 years was finally overthrown and the German settlers were invited by the Austrian Emperor and King of Hungary, Carl IV, to resettle the devastated and depopulated land what was then the Empire of Austria and is today in southern Hungary, Romania, northern Croatia and Vojvodina. Vojvodina is now northern part of Serbia.



Thousands of mainly German settlers rushed down the river Danube to the areas where the Turks had been expelled in 1688. They embarked at the port of Ulm in Swabia, in hope for a better future after the ravages of the 30 Year War in central Europe. They found swamps, marshes and steppe; they battled malaria, diphtheria and the ravages of continuous invasions by the Turks. However, in three generations that area became the fruit basket of Europe, and the oft quoted saying "the first finds death, the second bread, and the third prosperity" describes so well the willpower and drive of those brave ethnic German settlers, who were later known as "Danube Swabians", the newest German heritage tribe.

A homestead in Hrastovac consisted of 6.5 Joch of owned property plus community ownership of 400 Joch, which at that stage was still a thick forest. The purchase price was 40 guilder or florins. Five florins had to be put down immediately and the rest to be paid off in five years time with no interest. It was an excellent purchase price, considering that up in Baranya, Somogy and Tolna no agricultural land was available at any price.

The villages were established at the same time according to religious beliefs, so Hrastovac, and nearby Kapetanovo Polje were Evangelical villages.

To the dismay of the first arrivals, they found a swampy, overgrown terrain, full of huge oak tree stumps and rotten logs in every direction! Just as their grandfathers and greatgrandfathers did when they first arrived in the Swabian Turkey. They called their new home "Eichendorf" (Oakville), as it was surrounded with a thick oak forest, and used the fallen tree logs to make walls, covered it with straw and earth and spent the first winter in those shelters. The huge hollowed treestumps covered with corn stalks were the first stables. The very first bride received a wreath of oak leaves.

However the level and rich soil was excellent for agriculture. By the second generation the village stood proudly shinning with achievement. The town was built in a cross form with a wide tree lined street; the houses standing perpendicular to the street with its white gables and covered porches along the length of the house; with the barn and stables dividing the front yard from the garden and orchard, onto which the fields followed and the thick oak forest behind. Each front yard had its own covered well and its freestanding bread-baking oven.

Map hand drawn from memory by Jakob Weber in 1958

Behind the houses lay the grain fields waving in the wind, the dark green tobacco, beet and potato fields and the lush cornfields. One end of the main street, called "Neugasse" lead to Garešnica, just on the other side of the Ilova River on the Croatian side, and the southern end of the Neugasse lead to Uljanik. The cross street, also called such in German as "Kreuz Strasse" lead to the fish pond, and its east end to the water mill as well as to the village Blagorodovac.

Where the Neugasse and Kreuz Strasse intersected on each corner were the lots belonging to the community. One was reserved for the church, which was built only in 1929 and festively dedicated on November 17th of that year. Diagonally opposite was the parsonage; across the street stood the schoolhouse and diagonally opposite the school were the buildings for the voluntary fire department.

The school building was the first to be constructed and later expanded and rebuilt, which was also used for church and community hall purposes until the church structure was erected. It was a private Lutheran school and the language taught was German, as everyone in the village spoke German, but later Croatian was added too.

There was a real meaning to the word "work" in Hrastovac. However, its inhabitants never forgot to celebrate life as well. Weddings, christenings, funerals were very formal affairs, with the first one stretching over two or three days, sometimes even a whole week, but there were other Christian festivals like "Kirchweih", the church dedication day, evenduring the times before the existence of the church building. This holiday was joyfully and festively celebrated. Easter, Christmas and even Carnival, were other important events, when all work stood still and only the cooks in the kitchens devoted their energy and knowhow to boil, fry, roast and bake the most wonderful delicacies that the fields, the garden, the orchard and the stables could offer.

The village stood aside from the most political events of the late 1800's. However, it too suffered through loss of many of its fathers, brothers and sons in the First World War. By 1918 the Empire of Austro-Hungary was divided into eight parts and our Hrastovacers, whose close family ties lay on the north of the Drava River, stood all of a sudden very isolated, surrounded by their envious neighbours of Croatians and Serbians like islands in the sea.

Already by the end of 1800's the village was bursting at its seams and so many young men and women had to look for livelihoods in other lands. Many immigrated south to Bosnia, which was just then freed of the Turks' 400 years occupation, and others were looking for their luck in the Americas, the USA, Canada and Brazil. It is estimated that 23,000 ethnic Germans left Slavonia for North and later South America during that phase.

Austro-Hungary Divided 1918-1923. Shaded areas formally parts of Austro-Hungary.

WWII was a disastrous turning event specifically for all Danube Swabians in the former Kingdom of Hungary. Even though they had been living for over 200 years in their adopted homeland, the hatred towards Hitler's regime and the envy of their non Germanic neighbours spilled viciously over them now.

Partisans attacked the nearby village of Mali Bastaji on June 5th 1942. It had a large ethnic German population. Sixteen of the villagers were killed and the town was burned down.

The villages of Mlinska and Pašijan were attacked by the same Partisans in 1942, whereupon the villagers received permission in October of 1942 to leave all possessions behind and emigrate to Austria and Germany (Silesia) in long colonnes of horse and wagons and also in trains, when some were available.

Hrastovac also suffered many attacks with many lives lost. Finally in August of 1944, the German military command gave order to evacuate the village, as it was evident that there was no future left for the Danube Swabians in their beloved adopted homeland.

We will let Mr. Märzluft describe the events in his own words:

Our unforgettable Escape From Eichendorf (Hrastovac)

Written by Johann Märzluft in 1984

Translated by his daughter Linde Marzluft

AS the unwelcome World War II began in 1939 between Germany and Poland, it unfortunately spread over all of Europe. The ethnic Germans (to whom we belonged) outside of the German borders were more and more persecuted and endangered, and had no other resort but to flee and abandon their beloved home. As the criticism of our people became more evident in 1944, many did not yet realize the development and signs of future merciless catastrophic events to come, even though their own lives were at stake. As difficult as it was, the unexpected command for evacuation of Germans came on August 25, 1944. We had ½ hour to leave behind our homes, as well as our horses and wagons, livestock, poultry and all land rights to property, taking only light hand baggage.

At that time, I was the individual who refused the wishes of the Evacuation Commission in the name of the townspeople with this words to my officer: 'It would be better if you were to shoot us all here and now, rather than to send us all of to starve to death within a few days or weeks'. Since the Commission was not in a position to feed us, through the help of the town's teacher, Mr. Leinberger, we attained the right to spend one more night at home so that our spouses could bake some nourishing coarse rye bread (Bauernbrot). Thus we would be able to pack a few other personal belongings as well. Meanwhile, we were also given permission to load our wagons. However, before we were able to finish, the Tito Partisans had started the war and a combination of various German military began to fight on our behalf at 1:30 p.m. that afternoon. As a result, we realized that we also had lost a few on our side (August 26, 1944).

On that same afternoon, we had to set out from our homes with heavy hearts, shaken and frightened, for the last time to the sound of our church bells, into the unknown, with many prayers asking "God be with us and our beloved unforgettable home". A few families who did not want to accept the inevitable stayed behind. We left with horse and wagon down the road toward Uljanik. Between Uljanik and Antunovac, only 3 kilometers from Eichendorf (our home), we came under attack of the partisan soldiers. With the assistance of the German army, we were all fortunate to come out of it unscathed, for which we thank God to this day. After an hour, we continued onward through Antunovac, Poljana, Medjuric and into Banova Jaruga, where we arrived at 9:00 p.m. in the evening. There we found shelter in the barns of Serbian farmers.

We resided there for 3 weeks during which time we again came under enemy fire twice more and were again assisted by the German army. We all felt at that point that there would be no possibility for us to continue on. That was a very emotional time.. even so, after a long wait and the incumbent strengthening of the Russian Voluntary Cossack Division, we were eventually allowed to load our belongings (livestock and wagons included) onto the rail (cargo) wagons. We were finally on our way out of Banova Jaruga and headed in the direction of Belgrade, traveling through the following stations: Lipovljani, Novska, Okucani, Spischitsch, Bukovic, Neu Gradiska, Slavonski Brod, Vrpolje, Vinkovzi, Towarnik, Ruma, Indjia, and on to Beschka. There we spent the night in the train station under the open sky.

The next day we reloaded our wagons and rode into the nearest town, Grtschedin, where we were put up with the townspeople. However, after two days, the men of our group were stopped and directed into a large German guard room (at the police station) and enlisted as night watchmen; we were armed and immediately detailed as night patrol against the Tito army. During the following two weeks, we were only exposed to one half hour of open fire. At the onset of the third week we were given 2 orders from the German "Volksgruppe" in Croatia, to reload our wagons and move on in yet another direction (September 24, 1944). From that time on we were on our own as far as protection was concerned. We entered Beschka that evening and spent the night. There we were forced to set all of our livestock free with the exception of the horses. The next day we once again headed in the direction of Indjia toward Savski and Maruf, where we again spent the night. In that same night we were again shot upon by the Titoists; however, we were again able to fight our way out with only two fatalities reported on the opposing side. We then went on to spend a night in Ruma (October 6, 1944), a cold and blustery Sunday. On Monday we headed over to Vukovar where we stayed another night with German families.

A few of the women and children (my wife and our two daughters Lenchen and Erika included) were then transported by rail even though they were not registered. We men moved on with horses and wagons, and shortly before reaching Vukovar caught up with the rail cars. Because my wife and children were at the mercy of the transport, my wife decided to rejoin with the men at that time, which was fortunate. From Ruma, we moved on toward Bogdanovci and Voganj, where we stayed over. The next day we went on to Sarwasch where we also spent a night, and the men were at that time allowed to turn in their weapons. While the army then protected us, we moved on the next day to Esseg.

A few Serbians from Grtschedin had traveled with us during that time since they had no horses or carts of their own, and when they were not permitted entry into Hungary, they were allowed to turn back from Esseg via free rail transport to Grtschedin. We proceeded over the bridge over the Drau river toward Hungary and the border town of Gischdarta via Dermenta, where all our horses were freshly shoed. After that we traveled over Wilanj toward Fuenfkirchen (Pec).

The people with the Serbian horses and carts were directed to the marketplace. From Fuenfkirchen all the others proceeded on with their own horses and wagons. At that point, we were somehow separated from our sister in law, Eva Zarth, who had her son, Hans, and her daughter, Anna, with her. They had traveled in the direction of Lake Balaton toward Austria over Vienna; Sankt Poelten, Linz, and Welz into Grosendorf. There they too settled with German families. Eva lived in Wiesmuehle in the municipality of Ried in Traunkreis. Therefore, we were completely out of contact with them at that time. Our belongings were then loaded onto an open rail wagon without horse or wagons while the Serbians were directed to retreat with their horses and wagons. We then organized a transport and drove over Bortsch and Sopron towards Austria. We traveled over Vienna, Sankt Poelten, Linz, Donau, Welz and Lambach toward Braunau. After spending the night at the train station, we were directed to a camp in Ostermieting. After two weeks, we were advised that Grandmother Zarth and Grandmother Wagner with our sister in law's other two children (Albert and Eva) were in Scheuerfeld by Coburg (in the Bayreuth area).

Meanwhile, I was constantly being threatened by the town group Leader of Grtschedin that I would not be permitted to leave Ostermieting because I was required to enlist. Fortunately, after two calls to the "Volksdeutschegruppe" in Linz, my family and I were permitted to leave. We were also allowed to take Mother Zarth, sister in law Katharina, our niece Elizabeth Kemler and a few others of our town with us to Scheuerfeld by Coburg.

During our move, we stayed over in Nuernberg and there we found out that our sister in law Zarth and children had moved on to Austria. After arriving in Coburg I contacted the mayor of Scheuerfeld and explained what we had all been through and begged him to take us in. After much persuasion, he finally agreed to send for our belongings and provided us housing.

A few days later, I had some business to take care of in the Adolf Hitler House in Coburg, and on my way back I met up with my two Nazi sympathizer friends who had previously threatened me in Hungary that, when we came to the Reich, I would have to enlist. During our conversation, I lost my temper and struck the Town Group Leader, who was with them, in the face. He landed on his rear and naturally reported me to the Hungarian police as a result. Since his Hungarian language skills were much better than mine, I had a hard time defending myself. When the police met up with me in Coburg, they nicely asked "Where are you coming from, Mr. Marzluft?" and after I responded, they answered that they were on their way there now. I sensed in their tone of voice that I was probably in danger of possibly being separated from my family and the only thought that entered my mind was, "Where will we flee to now?" In desperation, I paid a visit to the Town Group Leader (Mr. Faust) and to my good fortune, he advised that many others from our town were in Lower Silesia in Gramschutz, in the area of Nanslau. I thought it over and decided to head out in that direction also, in order to avoid my newfound enemies. I was able to find work in my profession as a wagon master and I was able to find an apartment for my family, as well as my wife's mother, sister and niece. As I returned to get them, we loaded the rail wagon in Coburg and went on via Lichtenfels to Hof.

There we had to stop for an hour in an airraid shelter during an air raid. From Hof, we moved on in the direction of Dresden where we had to change rails in order to move on. At that time we noticed that Erika who was not yet two years old had lost a shoe, which we fortunately were able to relocate with the help of the town's loudspeaker system. From Dresden we went on via Kirschberg, Gorlitz, Lengnitz, Breslau, Nanslau and through to Gramschutz.

After one month there, the Russians moved forward over Ratibor, Opeln, and Kattowiz through Upper Silesia to the point where they were only five kilometers from Gramschutz. At that time we had no choice but to continue on as refugees once again. We traveled during the month of January (three weeks under the open sky in snow and ice) with our townspeople on horses and wagons over the Riesengebirge (named "Gigantic Mountains" with good reason), to Grusau, and from there we set out on our own.

Then I, as spokesperson, talked with the station consultant and convinced him to provide us with a rail car before the Russians were able to overcome us. As a result, we were also able to provide safe passage for the old people as well as the children and our belongings in the direction of Grosendorf via Austria. I was able to keep my family together and we set out toward Glatz in Czechoslovakia by way of Olmitz and Prerau to the border train station at Ludenburg where we once again spent the night in the train station.

There we had to leave behind our neighbor, Katharina Jung (nee Katharina Kah) after her death. From there we went on to Austria to the Viennese train station in Florensdorf. When we arrived there, we were once again overtaken by an air raid and spent 3 hours next to the train station in an airraid shelter.

Shortly after our departure, over 300 people perished therein during a bombing attack. After we arrived in Linz, we heard that Sankt Poelten had also been bombed, whereby an entire transport of Croatian soldiers lost their lives. From Linz on the Donau we moved on over Wels and Sadlet to Grosendorf, Austria. There we found refuge in unthinkably miserable quarters. We finally were able to settle and reside in Besendorf in the area of Ried in Traunkreis.

There we encountered quite a burden in that our oldest daughter, Lenchen, refused to eat black bread. She often said: "I would rather starve to death than to eat it". When we once again met up with our sister in law, Eva Zarth, she still had no knowledge of her husband's whereabouts (Hans, my wife's brother). He was still in the German army and missing in action.

A week later, I also had to enlist along with many others of our group and within a week we were called to duty in the German Army. We stayed in Besendorf until the end of World War II in 1945.

In the summer of 1945 we were ordered by the American army to load up onto the rail cars in Kremsminster. Prior to our departure we were advised that we would be heading "home". We were taken in the direction of Salzburg, From there onward over Carinthia toward Yugoslavia. We were then brought to a huge tunnel at Pongau. There the English occupied army would not allow us any further, because we were Germans and not of Serbian or Croatian heritage. The next day they turned us around and headed us back to where we came from.

Upon our return we were fortunate to reestablish in our old jobs. I worked in Bochendorf as a wagon craftsman in a widow's business which I was permitted to run. No one wanted to accept either responsibility for the hardship we had endured nor did anyone want to come to our rescue. Often during these unsure times we thought we would starve to death, and no one seemed to care about what our poor, harmless, helpless children had to endure. We were simply uprooted and homeless with no citizenship; alone in this world and treated as people with no rights through no fault of our own.

On 26 Aug. 1946, the American law enforcers who took charge in Germany after the war moved many others and us to West Germany. Since I was considered the transport leader of our group, I, with the help of Mr. Johann Faul of Eichendorf who was also included in this group, was asked to assist in the move. Our son, Hans, who had been born in Besendorf, Austria was only 8 months old at that time. We then moved from Kirchdorf by rail over Austria with minimal assistance from the U.S. Army. We traveled over Kremsminster, Wels, Lambach, and Salzburg and were released in Piding. From there we moved over Bad Reichenhall, Berchtesgarden, Traunstein, Rosenheim, Muchen, Wuerzburg, Hanau, Frankfurt, Bad Neuheim, Friedberg, Giessen, and Marburg to Wilhelmshuette in the area of Biedenkopf, Hesse. There we were split up into various towns. Our family went to Friedensdorf and the Zarth's to Steinperf.

In 1949, my wife's brother (Hans Zarth) was released from a Russian prison camp, and since we had already registered for migration to America prior to his return, the Zarths were able to go on to America in 1952 along with the Schuech family and my wife's mother, Anna Zarth. My family and I followed in 1955, on October 28 and the Faul family followed 7 1/2 months later in 1956.

Here in America with our wellknown Danube Swabian working proficiency, we established with God's help a new and better life for our children and us. However, the hardships and our devastating misfortune in Europe will be constantly in our thoughts.

Mr. Märzluft passed away in 1985.

Historische Einleitung

Gerade in der Mitte der fruchtbaren Ebene des Zwischenstromlandes von der Drava im Norden und der Sava in Süden, liegt das einst schöne, gepflegte Strassendorf Eichendorf. Nur ein paar Kilometer westlich fliesst in einer Senke die Ilowa der Sava zu, die auch gleichzeitig die Grenze zwischen den alten Königreichen Slawonien und Kroatien darstellt. Schon die alten Römer haben in der Ilowasenke ihre Heilbäder gebaut: Daruvar, Toplice, Krapinska, Lipik und viele andere mehr.

Doch Eichendorf selbst wurde erst in der kürzeren Zeit gegründet. Als dem Landinhaber Baron Tikery in Daruvar 1865 das Geld zu Neige ging, liess er den tausend Jahre alten Eichenwald abholzen. Die Riesenstämme waren zwei bis drei Meter im Durchmesser und wurden mit allergrössten Schwierigkeiten mit Ochsengespannen bis zu der nächsten Bahnstation nach Sisak an der Sava geschleppt. Nun standen Tausende von Hektaren brach und ungenutzt. Herr Baron Tikery entschloss sich, die ganze Gegend in Dörfer und Felder aufzuteilen. Der Hausmarkler Stein in Pakrac fand im Handumdrehen Käufer, hauptsächlich die Söhne und Töchter der Donauschwäbischen Siedler, der Ungarischen Schwäbischen Türkei, den Landkreisen Baranya, Somogy und Tolna.

Der Name "Schwäbische Türkei" scheint eigenartig zu sein, so weit weg von dem

Schwabenlande im südwestlichen Deutschland, wie auch von der Türkei im Nahen Osten. Es hat seinen Spitznamen am Anfang des 18. Jahrhunderts erhalten, nach dem die hundertvierzigjährige türkische Unterdrückung endlich von der Astro-Ungarischen Monarchie mit der Hilfe des Deutschen und Polnischen Militärs überworfen wurde. Gleich danach wurde um die Bauern und Handwerker in den deutschen Ländern geworben, denn der Kaiser und König Karl VI s wollte umgehend diese fast Menschenleere und verwahrloste Gegend wieder zur Blüte bringen.

Tausende strömten mit den Flachbooten, den Donauschachteln, die Donau herunter, von Ulm im Schwabenland, der Gegend zu, denn sie alle hofften auf eine bessere Zukunft, nach der Verwahrlosung des Dreissigjährigen Krieges in ihren Heimatländern, sich erschaffen zu können. Sie fanden Sümpfe, Marschland und Steppe, sie kämpften gegen Malaria, der Pest und den ständigen Türkischen Überfällen. Doch schon in drei Generationen wurde diese Gegend zur Europäischen Speisekammer. Das so oft wiederholte Sprüchlein

"Der Erste findet den Tod,
Der Zweite leidet die Not Und der Dritte hat Brot" beschreibt den Lebenswillen und die Zähigkeit jener Volksdeutschen, die später unter dem Namen "Donauschwaben" bekannt wurden, deutscher neuester Stamm.

Die Eichendorfer Parzelle bestand aus dem Hausplatz von 20 Klaftern im Dorf, dem Grundstück von 6.5 Joch und dem Anteil an dem 400 Joch grossen Hutweidefeld, das noch als dichter Wald stand. Der Kaufpreis betrug 40 Gulden. Fünf Gulden mussten gleich angezahlt und der Rest in fünf Jahren zinslos abgezahlt werden. Es waren sehr günstige Bedingungen, ganz besonders, da es in der Baranya, Somogy und Tolna gar keine Grundstücke mehr zu kaufen gab.

Die neuen Dörfer wurden gleichzeitig immer in einer Konfession gegründet, so waren Eichendorf, das nahe Kapetanovo Polje und später Blagorodovac evangelische Gemeinden.

Die ersten Ankömmlinge fanden ein sumpfiges Gelände vor. Aus dem ragten riesige Baumstümpfe und kreuz und quer liegende vermoderte Baumstämme. Genau so, wie ihre Vorfahren, als diese um 1700 in der Schwäbischen Türkei ankamen, es vorgefunden haben. Sie gaben dem zukünftigen Ort den Namen "Eichendorf", da es doch mit dichten Eichenwäldern umringt gewesen war. Sie bauten sich, mit Hilfe der umliegenden Baumstämme, primitive Behausungen und als Dach durch den ersten Winter wurden Zweige bedeckt mit Erde verwendet. Aus den hohlen Riesenbaumstümpfen, bedeckt mit Maisstängel und Erde, wurden Ställe. Zwischen den Baumstümpfen pflanzten sie Mais. Die erste Braut bekam einen Kranz aus Eichenblättern.

Doch war der Boden ausgezeichnet für die Landwirtschaft und das feuchtwarme Klima der Slawonischen Ebene trug dazu bei, dass schon bei der zweiten Generation das Dorf in seiner vollsten Pracht da stand. Schnurgerade führte die "Neue" Strasse durch das Dorf, rechts und links der Strassengraben und daneben zwei Meter breiten Gehsteige. Vor jedem Haus ein schmaler Giebelgarten und dahinter im alten Kolonialstil, mit der Giebelseite zur Strasse, gerichtete Wohnhaus. Danach kam im rechten Winkel, parallel zur Strasse, die Scheune und der Stall. Dahinter die Hofstelle, der Hühner- und der Schweinestall. Jeder Hof hatte seinen Brunnen und eigenen Backofen.

Hinter der Scheune lagen die Gärten, und danach die im Winde wehenden Weizen-, die dunkelgrünen Tabakfelder, die Kartoffel- und die üppigen Maisfelder. Dahinter erstreckte sich der dichter Eichenwald.

Im rechten Winkel kreuzte die "Kreuz Strasse" und an der Kreuzung lagen die Dorfplätze. Eines wurde für den Kirchenbau beansprucht, das erst am 17. November 1929 festlich eingeweiht wurde, schräg gegenüber wurde das Pfarramt errichtet und gegenüber dem Pfarramt wurde als nächstes die Schule erbaut. Auf dem letzten Gemeindeplatz wurde der Schuppen für die Geräte der freiwilligen Feuerwehr errichtet.

Da die Schule als erstes gebaut wurde, später auch erweitert und erneuert, diente sie auch als Betsaal. Es war eine private Lutheranische Schule, die Kinder wurden in der deutschen Sprache unterrichtet, dem später auch noch Kroatisch dazukam.

Das Wort "Arbeit" wurde in Eichendorf ganz gross geschrieben, doch vergassen die Eichendorfer nicht, auch die Feste ausgiebig zu feiern. Die Taufe, die Kirchweih und ganz besonders die Hochzeit wurde sehr oft zwei, drei Tage, ja manchmal eine ganze Woche lang ausgiebig gefeiert. Ostern, Weihnachten und sogar die Fastnacht waren wichtige Festtage, an denen alle Arbeit still stand, nur die Köche in der Küche kochten, backten, schmorten verführerische Bissen, was der Garten, der Stall und der Weinkeller zu bieten hatte.

Doch schon um das Ende des 18. Jahrhunderts, der grossen Kinderschar wegen, suchte die jüngere Generation neuen Lebensraum in anderen Gegenden. Manche zogen südlich nach Bosnien, das gerade von der 400 jährigen Türkischen Unterdrückung befreit wurde. Andere wanderten nach Amerika, Canada und Brazil aus. Schätzungsweise haben 23.000 Donauschwaben um diese Zeit Slawonien verlassen.

Eichendorf und ihre tüchtigen Bauern war abseits der meisten politischen Begebenheiten. Doch verloren so viele Vater, Bruder und Söhne im Ersten Weltkrieg ihr Leben. 1918 wurde das mächtige Astro-Ungarn in viele Teile verteilt. Unsere Eichendorfer, deren enge Familienverbindungen nördlich der Drava lagen, dass nun die Grenze zwischen dem neuen Ungarn und Jugoslawien wurde, waren auf einmal ganz alleine inmitten der neidischen Kroatischen und Serbischen Nachbarn.

Der Zweiter Weltkrieg brachte traumatische Änderungen für die Donauschwaben der alten Astro-Ungarischen Monarchie, obwohl sie schon über 200 Jahre diese Gegend ihre Heimat nannten. Der allgemeine Hass gegen die Hitler-Regierung übertrug sich auf die Volksdeutschen.

Im Juni 1942 und August 1943 wurde das nahe deutsche Dorf Mali Bastaji von den Partisanen überfallen, wobei 16 Leute getötet und das Dorf verbrannt wurde.

Die Donauschwäbischen Dörfer Mlinska und Pašijan wurden 1942 von den gleichen Partisanen überfallen, wonach die Einwohner die Genehmigung erhielten, ihr ganzes Hab und Gut hinterlassend, nach Schlesien und Österreich auszuwandern. Mit langen Kolonnen von überfüllten Pferdewagen zogen sie davon, ausgesetzt dem Wetter und dem Krieg.

Eichendorf wurde von Überfällen nicht verschont, und so manches Leben erlosch. Im August 1944 erhielten auch sie endlich den Befehl des deutschen Militärs, das Dorf zu evakuieren, denn es war allen klar, dass für die Donauschwaben keine Bleibe in ihrer geliebten Heimat mehr möglich war.

Wir lassen Herrn Märzluft uns seine Erlebnisse eigenhändig beschreiben:

Die Flucht aus Eichendorf

Niedergeschrieben von Johann Märzluft in 1984

Der unerwünschte zweite Weltkrieg, der im Jahre 1939 zwischen Deutschland und Polen begonnen hat, weitete sich traurigerweise über ganz Europa aus. Die sogenannten Volksdeutschen, denen auch wir angehörten, wurden immer mehr verfolgt und gefährdet, ausserhalb der deutschen Grenzen. Kein anderer Ausweg blieb für uns übrig, als die Flucht zu unternehmen, und unsere liebe angestammte Heimat zu verlassen. Als sich im Jahre 1944 die kritische Lage unseres Volksstammes immer mehr verwirklichte, haben viele immer noch nicht die kommenden Zeichen der unbarmherzigen bevorstehenden Katastrophe erkannt oder begriffen. Sie haben folgedessen ihr eigenes Leben einbüssen müssen.

So schwer es auch empfunden wurde, kam am 25. August 1944 der ungewollte überraschende Befehl der Deutschen Evakuierungskommission, innerhalb einer halben Stunde das Haus und Hof, so wie Pferde und Wagen, auch Korn, Vieh, Schweine, und sämtliches Geflügel, mit allen landwirtschaftlichen Geräten, nebst allem unbeweglichem Vermögen, zu hinterlassen und nur mit leichten Gepäck davonzuziehen. Ich war derjenige, der sich den Herren der Evakuierungskommission gegen den unüberlegten krassen Befehl weigerte im Namen aller in unseren Dorf. Mit den Worten: "Meine Herren Offiziere, besser erschiessen sie uns alle gleich hier, als dass wir dann in wenigen Tagen oder Wochen auf der Flucht verhungern müssen." Die Evakuierungskommission war nicht in der Lage, uns zu verpflegen. Durch Mithilfe von Lehrer W. Leinberger, gelang es uns dann, dass wir noch einmal daheim übernachten durften, und unsere Frauen nach unserer Art, das gute Bauernbrot backen konnten.

Es wurde dann genehmigt, dass die Wagen unserer Bauern mit ein paar Sachen beladen werden durften. Wir fingen gleich an zu laden. Aber bevor wir unsere Habseligkeiten geladen hatten, griffen die Tito Partisanen das Evakuierungskomando an, das sich aus verschiedenen Abteilungen des Deutschen Militärs zusammenstellte. Nachmitttag um halb zwei Uhr, wurde das Feuer beiderseits eingestellt. Erst dann sahen wir, dass wir unsererseits einige Tote hatten. Das war der 26. August 1944.

An dem selben Nachmittag ging es dann mit traurigen Herzen, mit Zittern und Zagen und Weinen, mit Verabschiedung unter dem Glockengeläut unserer Kirche, für immer ins Ungewisse. Mit den Rufen "Gott sei mit uns, und mit dir geliebte unvergessliche, teure Heimat". Einige Familien, die es immer noch nicht wahr haben wollten, blieben noch zurück. Und dann ging es von Eichendorf der Landstrasse entlang, nach Uljanik.

Zwischen Uljanik und Antunovac, das nur drei Kilometer von Eichendorf entfernt war, wurden wir von Partisanen beschossen. Mit Abwehr der Deutschen Armee kamen alle unverletzt davon. Wofür wir Gott heute noch danken. Dann ging es nach einer Stunde weiter über Antunovac Poljana Medjuric', nach Banovajaruga, wo wir abends um neun Uhr ankamen. Dort wurden wir serbischen Bauern zugewiesen, wo wir dann drei Wochen in ihren Scheunen verbringen mussten.

In der Zwischenzeit waren wir auch zwei mal von den Titos des Nachts unter Feuer genommen. Mit guter Abwehr der Deutschen Wehrmacht, überlebten wir es auch wieder. Wir waren alle im Glauben, dass es für uns keine Möglichkeit geben würde, uns weiter zu transportieren. Das war ein Verzagen, eine Enttäuschung!!!

Jedoch am Ende des langersehnten Wartens, und mit Verstärkung von der Russischen Freiwilligen Kosaken Division, konnten wir dann doch endlich in die Eisenbahnwagen eingeladen werden. Auch durften wir Korn, Vieh, Schweine, auch Pferde und Wagen, mitnehmen. Auch wir stiegen in die Wagen ein. Endlich fuhr man uns von Banovajaruga, in Richtung Belgrad, über folgende Bahnhöfe: Lipovljani, Novska, Okucani, Spischitsch, Bukoviz, Neu Gradiska, Slavonisch Brod, Wrpolje, Winkovz,i Towarnik, Ruma, Indjia, bis zur Endstation in Beschka. Dort übernachteten wir am Bahnhof unter freiem Himmel.

Am nächsten Tag wurde alles wieder auf die Pferdewagen geladen, und wir fuhren in das nahe gelegene Nachbardorf Grtschedin. Dort wurden wir bei der Bevölkerun einquartiert. Wir Männer wurden nach zwei Tagen Aufenthalt, in die grosse Deutsche Wachstube gerufen, und dem Ortschutz zugeteilt. Wir wurden gegen die Titos bewaffnet und zugleich in den Nachtstreifendienst eingeteilt. In dem dortigen zweiwöchigen Aufenthalt, hatten wir nur eine halbe Stunde Schiesserei.

Anfang der dritten Woche bekamen wir wieder Befehl, seitens der Deutschen Volksgruppe in Kroatien, mit den Einheimischen Deutschen wieder alles auf die Pferdewagen zu laden. Und an demselben Tag ging es nun wieder auf die Flucht, dieses Mal in die umgekehrter Richtung. Es war der 24.September 1944.

Von da an waren wir auf Selbstschutz angewiesen. Am Abend kamen wir in Beschka an, wo wir übernachteten. Dort waren wir gezwungen alles Vieh, ausgenommen der Pferde, laufen zu lassen. Den nächsten Tag fuhren wir weiter in die Richtung Indjia nach Savski Maruf, wo wir dann wieder übernachteten. In der selben Nacht wurden wir wieder von den Titos beschossen. Doch konnten wir uns auch wieder herauskämpfen. Auf ihrer Seite wurden nur zwei Tote gesichtet. In Ruma übernachteten wir wieder. Das war am 6. Oktober 1944 an einem sehr kalten Sonntag.

Montags fuhren wir über Vukovar, wo wir bei den deutschen Leuten übernachteten. Einige unserer Frauen und Kinder wurden mit der Bahn befördert, auch meine Frau mit unseren zwei Kindern Lenchen, und Erika, obwohl sie nicht registriert waren, schlossen sie sich dem Transport unterwegs an. Wir anderen zogen mit dem Pferdegespann weiter. Kurz vor Vukovar überholten wir den Transportzug. Weil meine Frau auf dem Zug auf die Gnade anderer angewiesen war, schloss sie sich mit unserem Lenchen und Erika wieder bei uns an, was auch gut war.

Von Ruma ging es über Bogdanovci Woganj, wo wir wieder übernachteten. Am nächsten Tag ging es bis Sarwasch, wo wir auch übernachteten. Da die Wehrmacht uns wieder in den Schutz nahm, konnten die Männer ihre Waffen abgeben. Den nächsten Tag fuhren wir bis nach Esseg. Weil einige Serben von Grtschedin mit Ihren Pferden und Wagen mit uns fahren mussten, die keine eigene Gespanne hatten, und nicht nach Ungarn hinein durften, wurden die Pferde und Wagen von uns übernommen. Die Serben konnten danach von Esseg nach Grtschedin mit der Bahn frei zurückfahren.

Wir fuhren über die Drava Grenzbrücke nach Ungarn über Dermenta in das Grenzstädtchen Gischdarta. Dort wurden alle Pferde mit Hufeisen neu beschlagen, Nun ging es über Villâny nach Fünfkirchen. Die Leute mit den serbischen Gespannen wurden auf den Marktplatz verwiesen.

Von Fünfkirchen fuhren alle anderen mit eigenen Gespannen weiter. Dort wurden wir von unserer Schwägerin Eva Zarth, die Hans und Anna bei sich hatte, getrennt. Sie fuhren dann in Richtung Plattensee, nach Österreich über Wien, Sankt Pölten, Linz, Welz, bis Grosendorf weiter. Dort wurden sie bei den Einheimischen eingeteilt. Schwägerin Eva endete in Wiesmühle, in der Gemeinde Ried im Traunkreis. Wir verloren gänzlich den Kontakt zu ihnen.

Wir übrigen ohne eigene Gespanne, wurden in Fünfkirchen in offene Eisenbahnwagen mit allem Gepäck eingeladen. Den Serben wurde gestattet, dort ihre Pferde und Wagen zurückzuholen, so wurde für uns ein Transport zusammengestellt. Wir fuhren von Fünfkirchen über Bortsch und Schopron nach Österreich. Über Wien, Sankt Pölten Linz, Donau Welz und Lambach nach Braunau am Inn. Nach Übernachtung am Bahnhof fuhren sie uns ins Lager nach Ostermieting.

Nach zwei Wochen erfuhren wir, dass die Zarth und Wagner Grossmütter, mit den zwei anderen Kinder unserer Schwägerin, Albert, und Eva, im Frankischen angekommen sind, in Scheuerfeld bei Coburg. Mittlerweile bekam ich immer Drohungen von dem Ortsgruppenleiter von Grtschedin, dass ich nicht mehr von Ostermieting wegziehen dürfe, da ich wehrflüchtig sei, und demnächst einrücken müsste. Durch zwei Anrufe an die Volksdeutsche Mittelstelle in Linz, gelang es mir, mit meiner Familie umzuziehen, damit wir in der Nähe unserer Mutter Zarth, meiner Frau ihrer Schwester Katharina und ihrer Nichte Elisabetha Kemler, zusammen sein konnten. Auch einige unserer Leute schlossen sich uns in Scheuerfeld bei Coburg an.

Wir mussten unseren Umzug in Nürnberg unterbrechen. Dort erfuhren wir, dass unsere Schwägerin Zarth alle vier Verwandte von Scheuerfeld nach Österreich geholt hatte. Als wir in Coburg angekommen waren, rief ich den Bürgermeister von Scheuerfeld an, und erzählte ihm, wie es uns ergangen ist, und bat ihn, dass er uns doch unterbringen möchte. Endlich war er einverstanden. Er liess uns, wie auch unser Gepäck, in Coburg abholen, und wies uns in Scheuerfeld Wohnungen zu.

Einige Tage später hatte ich einiges in Coburg im Adolf Hitler Haus zu erledigen. Auf meinem Heimweg, traf ich zwei Nazi Schmeichler, nämlich den Ortsgrupenleiter, so wie den Bürgermeister, von Grtschedin. Schon in Ungarn drohten sie mir, wenn wir ins Reich kämen, müsste ich dann sofort einrücken. Da packte mich die Wut und ich schlug dem Ortsgrupenleiter eine, nicht zu leichte Ohrfeige ins Gesicht, dass er auf seinem Hintern landete, mit dem Rücken an die Baracke wo wir untergebracht waren. Natürlich meldete mich der gute Mann bei der ungarischen Polizei . Weil er gut ungarisch sprechen konnte, und ich weniger, hatte ich eine harte Zeit, mich ohne eingesperrt zu werden, dort herauszuziehen. Als sie mich in Coburg wieder trafen, fragten sie mich freundlich "wo kommen Sie denn her, Herr Märzluft?" Da sagte ich es ihnen. Sie meinten, sie sind gerade auf dem Wege dorthin und wollten nämlich auch nach Scheuerfeld kommen.

Oh! dachte ich, jetzt haben sie mich schon wieder. Wo zum Kuckuck muss ich nun jetzt schon wieder hin flüchten? Zu meinem Glück kam einige Tage später unser Ortsgruppenleiter Herr Faust an. Der erzählte mir, dass mehrere Eichendorfer Familien in Niederschlesien wären, in Gramschütz, Kreis Namslau. Ich dachte, um diesen Teufels auszuweichen, fahre ich dort hin. Was ich auch tat. Dort bekam ich gleich Arbeit in meinem Beruf. Ich wurde eingestellt als Wagnermeister, bekam auch eine Wohnung für meine Familie, so wie für meiner Frau ihrer Mutter und Schwester Katharina und die

Nichte Elisabetha .

Als ich dann zurück nach Scheuerfeld kam, luden wir in Coburg in einen Eisenbahnwagen unsere paar Sachen ein. Dann fuhren wir von Coburg über Lichtenfels bis Hof. Dort hatten wir Fliegerarlarm, und weilten eine Stunde im Luftschutzstollen. Von Hof ging es dann in Richtung Dresden, wo wir umsteigen mussten, um dann weiter fahren zu können. Dann sahen wir, dass unsere kleine Erika, die noch nicht zwei Jahre alt war, nur einen Schuh an hatte. Im letztem Moment durch die Lautsprechersuche, haben wir ihm wieder bekommen. Von Dresden fuhren wir über Kirchsberg, Görlitz, Liegnitz, Breslau und Namslau bis Endstation Gramschütz.

Nach einem Monat unseres dortigen Aufenthaltes, stiessen die Russen über Ratibor, Opeln und Kattowiz durch Oberschlesien vor. Sie waren nur noch fünf Kilometer von Gramschütz entfernt. Dann ging es wieder auf die Flucht. Es war Januar und wir wanderten drei Wochen lang mit den Einheimischen auf den Pferdewagen unter freien Himmel durch Eis und Schnee. Es ging über das Riesengebirge bis Gruesau. Ein Gebirge mit Recht so benannt. Ab dort nahmen uns die Einheimischen nicht mehr mit.

Nun war ich wieder derjenige, der es verstand, die Stationschef's von Gruesau zu überreden, uns einen Eisenbahnwagen zu genehmigen, bevor die Russen kamen, damit wir die alten Leute und die Kinder samt allem Gepäck einladen konnten. Das Ziel war Grosendorf in Oberösterreich. Ich hielt meine Familie zusammen.

Von Gruesau fuhren wir mit allen anderen in Richtung Glatz, über die Tschechoslowakei, über Olmitz Prerau bis zu dem Grenzbahnhof Lundenburg. Dort übernachteten wir am Bahnhof. Dort liesen wir für immer unsere liebe Dorfgenossin, Frau Katharina Jung geb. Kah, wo sie verstarb. Sie wurde in Lundenberg beerdigt.

Unsere Irrfahrt ging nun ins Österreichische, in den Wiener Florensdorfer Bahnhof. Dort mussten wir uns wegen Fliegeralarm drei Stunden neben dem Bahnhof im Bunker verstecken. Kurz nach unserer Abfahrt kamen dort über dreihundert Menschen durch einem Bombenangriff ums Leben. Wir haben davon in Sankt Pölten erfahren, als wir dort ankamen. Nach kurzem Aufenthalt fuhren wir dann in Richtung Linz an der Donau. Unterwegs wurden wir auf freier Strecke angehalten. Alle mussten schleunigst in einen Bunker in einem Berg hinein, des Fliegeralarms wegen. Als die Gefahr vorüber war, fuhren wir wieder weiter.

In Linz erfuhren wir, dass auch Sankt Pölten bombardiert wurde, wobei ein ganzer Transport Kroatischer Soldaten ums Leben kam. Von Linz an der Donau, fuhren wir über Wels und Sadlet bis zur Endstation Grosendorf, Oberösterreich. Dort wurden wir in unglaublich armseligen Wohnungen untergebracht. Wir wohnten in Besendorf, Krs. Ried im Traunkreis. Dort hatten wir unsere Last, da unser Lenchen kein schwarzes Brot essen wollte. Oft sagte sie, lieber möchte sie verhungern als das Brot zu essen. Als wir mit unserer Schwägerin Zarth dann wieder zusammen kamen, wusste sie noch immer nichts von ihrem Mann, dem Bruder meiner Frau. Er war immer noch in der deutschen Armee. Einige Wochen später wurde auch ich nochmal mit mehreren anderen gemustert. Wir wurden nach einer Woche eingezogen, zu der Deutschen Wehrmacht, bei der wir bis zum Kriegsende 1945 geblieben sind.

Im Sommer 1945 mussten wir unter Befehl der Amerikanischen Armee, mit unserem wenigen Gepäck das wir noch hatten, in Kremsmünster in die Eisenbahnwagen geladen werden. Vor der Abfahrt teilten sie uns mit, dass wir nach Hause gefahren werden. So fuhren sie uns in Richtung Salzburg. Von dort ging es über Kärnten, Richtung Jugoslawien. Man brachte uns bis vor einen grossen Tunnel, der Pongau hiess. Dort liess uns die Englische Besatzungsmacht nicht weiter fahren, da wir Deutsche und nicht Serben oder Kroaten waren. Am nächsten Tag brachten sie uns in der umgekehrter Richtung wieder zu unseren Bauern und die Wohnungen zurück. Als wir zurück kamen, bekamen alle wieder unsere alte Arbeit. Ich arbeitete in Bochendorf als Wagnermeister, in einem Witwenbetrieb, den ich führte.

Niemand hat die Verantwortung für die unglaublichen Strapazen, die wir erlebt haben, übernehmen wollen. Niemand kam uns zur Hilfe, auch wenn es bloss ein wenig Verpflegung gewesen wäre. So oft waren wir dem Verhungern nahe. Keiner kümmerte sich darum, was die kleinen, armen Kinderchen so früh schuldlos mitmachen mussten. Wir wurden als einfache, entwurzelte Niemandsbürger, ohne jede Rechte, von der ganzen Welt angesehen.

Am 26. August 1946 wurden wir mit vielen anderen unserer Landsleuten, von der amerikanischen Besatzungsmacht nach West Deutschland repartriert. Die Repatrierungskomission setzte mich als Transportführer mit der Hilfe des H. Johann Faul aus Eichendorf ein. Unser Hans, der in Österreich in Besendorf zur Welt kam, war nur acht Monate alt. Dann ging es von Kirchdorf, Oberösterreich , wo wir in die Eisenbahnwagen einstiegen, mit knapper Verpflegung der U.S. Armee, über Kremsmünster, Wels, Lambach und Salzburg nach Piding. In Piding wurden alle entlaust. Von dort ging es über Badreichenhall, Berchdesgarden, Traunstein, Rosenheim, München, Würzburg, Hanau, Frankfurt a.M., Bad Nauheim, Friedberg, Giessen, Marburg an der Lahn, bis Endstation Willhelmshütte, Krs. Biedenkopf in Hessen.

In Willhemshütte wurden wir verschiedenen Dörfern zugeteilt. Wir wohnten in Friedensdorf, und Zarth's in Steinperf. Im 1949 kam endlich der Schwager Zart, aus Russischer Gefangenschaft heim. Da wir uns schon vor seinem Kommen für die Auswanderung nach Amerika registriert haben, gelang es der Familie Zarth 1952 nach Amerika auszuwandern. Die Familie Schuech auch. Meine Familie und ich kamen am 28. Oktober 1955 in New York an. Die Familie Faul's landete 7 1/2 Monate nach uns.

Hier in Amerika, mit dem hartnäckigen donauschwäbischen Streben, fanden wir mit Gottes Hilfe unsere selbst verdiente stille Existenz wieder und das bessere Leben für uns und unsere Kinder. Doch die tragischen Erinnerungen an unsere europäischen Schicksalschläge werden uns immer lebhaft in Gedanken bleiben.

Evangelical Parish in Hrastovac

The following pages are mainly transcribed from the Church books of Hrastovac-Eichendorf, besides own family research of Hrastovacer descendants mentioned above.The Church books consist of:

Marriages From 1869 to 1944
Births From 1866 to 1944
Confirmations From 1886 to 1902
Burials 1865 to 1944

The films 1865-1900 can be viewed through the Church of Latter Day Saints (LDS). With jubilation and thankfulness did we receive the news, when the film was released in 1999. However, the duplicate of the book of burials was only discovered in 2011 in the archives in Zagreb and at the time of this writing has not been filmed. The original book is located in the archives of Bjelovar and covers the years from ca. 1865 to 1944. Our information on deaths and the vital recors 1900 – 1944 has been added in 2012.

Around 1895 many new Lutheran settlers arrived in the area and Hrastovac Lutherean church became their mother church for vital events, the births, marriages and deaths. Marriage could be only performed by the pastor of the mother church in Hrastovac and when he was not available by the pastor in Slatina, now known as Podravska Slatina. Most often the place of residence was not mentioned. Franjevac, which later became Stižicevac; Kapetanovo Polje; Veliki and Mali Bastaji; Pašijan and Mlinska are only some of the villages with a large Lutheran Danube Swabian population, which were filial parishes of the Hrastovac mother church.

Many entries were contributed by the individual family archives. Many thanks to all those who supplied them.

Today the new inhabitants of mostly Croatian heritage have transformed the church building of the Evangelical Church in Hrastovac, which was lovingly erected by its Danube Swabian community in 1929, into a dance hall.

Die evangelische Gemeinde in Eichendorf

Die folgenden Seiten sind den Eichendorf (Hrastovac) Kirchenbüchern entnommen, neben eigenen Ahnen Recherche der Hrastovacers wie oben erwaehnt. Die Kirchenbuecher sind wie folgt:

Heiraten von 1869 bis 1944
Geburten von 1866 bis 1944
Konfirmation von 1886 bis 1944
Gestorbene von 1865 bis 1944

Die Kirchenbüer wurden durch die "Kirche Jesu Christi der Heiligen der Letzten Tage" (LDS) verfilmt; die Mikrofilme sind seit 1999 bis zu dem Jahr 1900 einsehbar. Es war eine grosse Freude, diese Filme benützen zu können und wir sind der LDS sehr dankbar dafür. Das Buch der Beerdigungen wurde leider nicht verfilmt. Das Original befindet sich in dem Arhiv in Bjelovar in Kroatien und enthält Beerdigungen von ca. 1865 bis 1944.

Ab ca. 1895 kauften viele der jüngeren Generation der Eichendörfer Bauernhöfe in den umliegenden Ortschaften. Auch zogen manche neue Siedler von der Schwäbischen Türkei dazu. Die Evangelische Kirche in Hrastovac blieb als Mutterkirche und viele Geburten, Hochzeiten und Beerdigungen aus anderen Ortschaften wurden in den Eichendörfer Kirchenbüchern eingetragen. Allerdings konnte die Heirat nur von dem Pfarrer der Mutterkiche gesegnet werden und wenn dieser nicht zu erreichen war, vom Pfarrer in Slatina. In den meisten Fällen wurde der Wohnort nicht genannt. Franjevac, (später Strižičevac genannt); Kapetanovo Polje; Veliki und Mali Bastaji; Pašijan und Mlinska sind nur einige der Dörfer der Umgebung mit einer grösseren evangelischen donauschwäbischen Bevölkerung, die Zweigstellen der Eichendörfer Mutterkirche waren.

Manche der vorliegenden Eintragungen stammen aus den individuellen Familienarchiven. Herzlichen Dank an alle, die Daten zur Verfügung gestellt haben.

Die Kirche der evangelischen Gemeinde in Eichendorf, die festlich von ihrer donauschwäbischen Gemeinde in 1929 eingweiht wurde, dient heute den neuen kroatischen Inhaber als Tanzhalle.

The families are grouped alphabetically per family name and then by generations. Wherever there was a proven connection between different families, it is indicated by: see (number). When new data arrived the families could be connected and some numbers were remouved, and at other places added by an additional (letter).

Dear reader, every care has been undertaken to avoid mistakes, however we hope to be forgiven for those, that managed to escape our attention. Please let us know about it.

Die Familien wurden alfabetisch und dann jeweils nach der ältesten Generation zusammengefasst. Wo es eindeutig schriftlich zu ersehen war, wurden die Familien mit: “siehe (Nummer)” verbunden. Bei der Überprüfung der Kircheneintragungen wurde festgestellt, das manche Einträge doppelt vorkamen. Diese wurden entfernt, samt der Reihennummer. An manchen Stellen wurden die nachträglich eingekommenen Einträge mit einem (Buchstaben) versehen.

Verehrter Leser, wir haben uns viel Mühe genommen, alle Fehler zu beseitigen. Falls welche doch noch sich eingeschlichen haben, bitten wir um Verzeihung. Bitte lassen Sie uns davon wissen.

A Göbel, Johann Heinrich is one of the original settlers in Kötcse, Somogy, arriving there from Rainroad, Hesse via Regensburg in spring of 1723. The early church records were lost in the night that the mob raided the village and burned down the church.

Another Göbel, Johann Heinrich, of Wohnbach in Hesse, see (746 A & B) arrived with his family in 1741 in Izmény, Tolna . This Göbel ancestry chart can be viewed at www.hrastovac.net on the Family Registry pages. It leads back to the Göbel Glassmacher (Glass manufacturer) of Trier in 1390 A.D.

*The third identified Göbel line goes back to Johann Caspar Göbel, 1698 Oct 31 in Felda, Hesse who settled with his family in Varsád, Tolna. See (747).
